WINERY LAUNCHES NEW ECO-FRIENDLY ACCOMMODATIONS IN TEXAS

Johnson City, Texas - Three friends who share a passion for wine are taking their 100% Texan winery to the next level. 12 Fires Winery is proud to announce the opening of its hospitality business where visitors can stay in eco-friendly accommodations while enjoying great Texan wine, live music events, and much more.

Located in the heart of Texas Hill Country, near Johnson City, 12 Fires Winery is a must-visit destination for travelers seeking a comfortable, memorable, and unique experience. Visitors can indulge in a variety of activities including wine tasting, vineyard tours, gastronomy tours, and local hiking trails. Whether you're a wine expert or a novice, the winery's friendly staff will guide you through an unforgettable wine journey. The vineyard tours will provide guests with a glimpse into the winery's wine-making process, from grape to bottle.

The winery's commitment to quality, sustainability, and community involvement has earned it a reputation as one of the best wineries in the area. "We're thrilled to offer visitors an unparalleled wine experience in the heart of Texas Hill Country," said one of the co-founders. "Our winery is more than just a place to enjoy great wine; it's a place to learn, relax, and connect with nature and people."

Visit 12 Fires and immerse yourself in the rich flavors, culture, and history of Texan wine. Book your future stay today.
